

Issues - Program List (July 10, 2014)

As required quarterly by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), this Issues and Program List will identify the programs aired over WETD 90.7 FM, State University of New York, Alfred, NY 14802 over the preceding quarter (Apr. 1, 2014 – June 30, 2014). In order to fulfill part 73.3527 of Title 47 Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) regarding non-commercial, educational radio stations, WETD 90.7 FM is required by the Federal Communication Commission (FCC) to submit a Quarterly List reflecting the “licensee’s most significant programming treatment of community issues”. The Issues – Program List must be filed in the Public Inspection File each quarter (On January 10th, April 10th, July 10th, and October 10th.)

WETD 90.7 FM is owned by The State University of New York (SUNY). Alfred State College’s (ASC) President, Dr. Irby (Skip) Sullivan, and the ASC President’s Counsel currently oversee the daily operations of the radio station. WETD is funded and operated as an ASC Student Senate-funded club.

WETD continues to determine conclusively what current issues are affecting our community, and provide serious treatment for our listeners within the FCC defined guidelines for Issues and Programming Lists. The WETD Board of Directors (BOD) work towards this by conducting various campus and local community-wide surveys, and providing data samples of the most significant issues affecting our listener’s lives. Our WETD leadership looks at each identified areas from these continuing surveys, and provide need-specific and timely programming for our listeners.

The main programs on the Issues & Programming list are The Best of our Knowledge, The Book Show, 51%, and new programs A Way With Words, America's Test Kitchen, and On The Money.

1. Since 1990, The Best of Our Knowledge has highlighted breakthroughs across disciplines and across the globe, putting listeners in touch with the men and women at the forefront of their fields. Each week this program examines some of the issues unique to college campuses, looks at the latest research, and invites commentary from experts and administrators from all levels of education. The Best of Our Knowledge is produced by WAMC/Northeast Public Radio's National Productions in Albany, N.Y. Production support for The Best of Our Knowledge comes from Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario, Canada.
2. The Book Show is a nationally syndicated public radio program produced by the National Productions unit at Northeast Public Radio. Each week on The Book Show, host Joe Donahue interviews authors about their books, their lives and their craft. It is a celebration of both reading and writers.

4. A Way with Words is a lively hour-long public radio show about language, on the air since 1998. Author Martha Barnette and dictionary editor Grant Barrett take calls about slang, grammar, old sayings, word origins, regional dialects, family expressions, and speaking and writing well. It is produced by WayWords, Inc, P.O. Box 632721 San Diego, CA 92163, a CA Non-profit organization. For more info, visit <http://www.waywordradio.org>.
5. America’s Test Kitchen Radio applies the no-nonsense, first-hand testing approach to the wide world of food, dining, and cooking—with your voices thrown into the mix for good measure. Each episode features food and cookware recommendations and in-depth interviews. America’s Test Kitchen Radio with host Chris Kimball is produced by America's Test Kitchen, 17 Station Street Brookline, MA 02445, and is one of public radio’s newest weekend anchor programs, distributed by PRX. It's free until January 2015 and available to all stations on PRX.org.
6. On The Money with Steve Pomeranz has been educating and counseling investors to make informed money decisions since 2001. OTM is produced by United Capital Private Wealth Counseling, Boca Raton, FL, and accepts no commissions, nor do they represent any mutual fund company, money manager, brokerage firm, bank or insurance company. They sell no product and have no interest in any investment recommended. For more info, visit <http://www.onthemoneyradio.org>.

Please find attached the program times aired with each program’s detailed description, as well as the WETD Listener Survey identifying the most significant issues facing our listeners. This ongoing attempt not only allows WETD staff to locate and broadcast the best possible programming, but it helps establish a baseline for meeting our listener’s identified needs.

Sincerely,

Richard J. Herritt

2014 WETD Listener Surveys – Listener Identified Issues

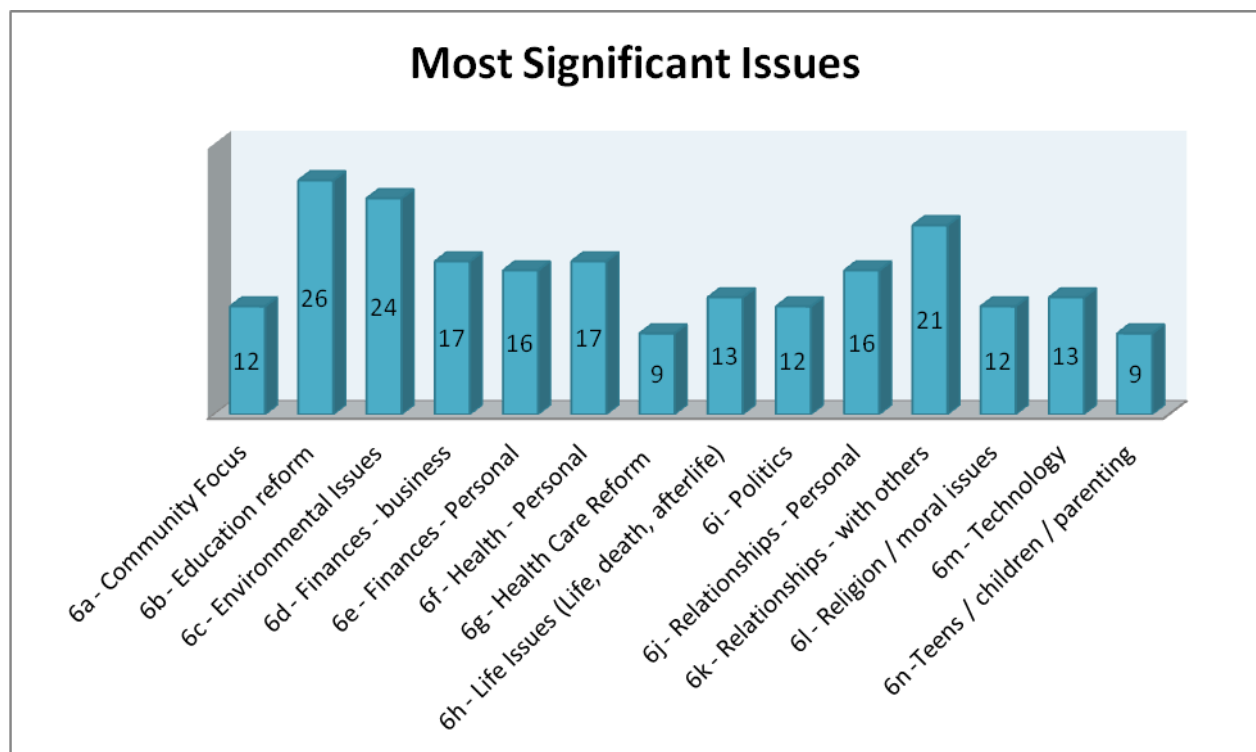

Overview: In order to identify the most significant issues facing our listeners, WETD conducts three major listener surveys each year: Hot Dog Day (Alfred, April), Main Street Festival (Wellsville, July), and Homecoming (ASC, Alfred, October). Based on these results, WETD is committed to providing the best programming in meeting these most significant identified issues of our communities.

The following is the completed 2014 Significant Issue Chart from WETD-conducted listener surveys at Hot Dog Day, Main St., Alfred, NY in April, 2014, involving respondents from across Western New York and our local area. Using these results, WETD staff identified that respondents were most concerned about Education Reform in our communities. Environmental issues was second, followed by Relationships w/ others, Business Finances, & Personal Health, etc as the most significant issues in WETD's Alfred & Wellsville area respondent's lives.

In reviewing our current programming lists (included), WETD continues to be committed to providing programming that meets these needs, as well as considering the other identified needs within our community of license and our surrounding communities. WETD has added A Way With Words literacy program, in addition to The Best of our Knowledge education reform program. Our Environmental Issue concerns are handled through Isla Earth & other hourly programs. Relationships with others & Health Care Reform is addressed with 51%, while our new On The Money show encourages listener's personal & business financial education. And America's Test Kitchen provided nutritional encouragement for our communities Personal Health.

On May 1st, 2013, WETD was honored to receive Alfred State College's coveted Civic Engagement Award, out of 80+ Alfred State College's Student Senate recognized & very active clubs and organizations, and one of 3 semi-finalists in 2014. WETD students continually strive to meet the needs of our communities both on and off campus. This was the fifth Civic Engagement and / or Community Service Award that WETD students have received in the past 8 years.

In 2013, the Wellsville Chamber of Commerce offered & accepted WETD as an Associate member in appreciation for WETD's community service supporting local businesses & community. WETD's next scheduled survey will be conducted at the Main Street Festival, Wellsville, NY, July 19, 2014 during the annual Balloon Festival with 10,000+ attendees.

4/1/14	:25	#1341	Dinaw Mengestu's work, including his first two novels, have earned him incredible critical acclaim as well as a MacArthur Foundation genius grant and selection by the New Yorker as one of their "20 Under 40" young writers central to their generation. And writing about his new novel, All Our Names , Kirkus Reviews calls Mengestu, "among the best novelists now at work in America." His previous novels include The Beautiful Things That Heaven Bears and How to Read the Air .

4/8/14	:25	#1342	In her follow-up to the best-selling Loving Frank , Nancy Horan recounts the improbably love affair between Scottish author, Robert Louis Stevenson and his American wife, Fanny Osbourne. In The Wide and Starry Sky , Horan invites us to explore The Stevensons unusual relationship and the ways they changed the literary and artistic landscape around them.
4/15/14	:25	#1343	In 1872 the American merchant vessel Mary Celeste was discovered adrift off the coast of Spain. Her cargo was intact and there was no sign of struggle, but the crew was gone. They were never found. In her new novel, The Ghost of Mary Celeste , Valerie Martin imagines the human dimensions of this unsolved maritime mystery.
4/22/14	:25	#1344	With The Blazing World , internationally bestselling author Siri Hustvedt returns to the New York art world telling the provocative story of the artist Harriet Burden. After years of watching her work ignored or dismissed by critics, Burden conducts an experiment she calls Maskings : she presents her own art behind three male masks, concealing her female identity.
4/29/14	:25	#1345	Rachel Urquhart's debut novel, The Visionist , tells the story of 15-year old Polly Kimball who kills her abusive father in a fire. Her mother leads them to seek shelter in The City of Hope, a nearby shaker Settlement. She is anointed a visionist upon her arrival, where she is - by turns - worshipped and questioned.

4/20/14	54:00	#1352	This week, forensic linguists use what they know about speech and writing to testify in courtrooms. And get out your hankies! Martha and Grant are talking about the language of ... sneezing. And what do you call it when you clean the house in a hurry because company's coming? How about "making lasagna" or "shame cleaning"? Plus who's a hoopie, down goes your shanty, hold on to your blueberry money, and gym slang fit for a cardio queen.
4/27/14	54:00	#1396	This week on "A Way with Words": It used to be that any kind of mixed-breed dog was called a "mutt." But at dog parks today, you're just as likely to run into "schnugs," "bassadors," and "dalmadoodles." Also, if someone has a suntan, you might say he's "brown as a berry." But then, when's the last time you saw a berry that was brown? The story behind this phrase goes all the way back to Chaucer. And: Do you want your doctor practicing "preventive" medicine -- or "preventative"?
5/4/14	54:00	#1397	This week on "A Way with Words": The SAT is changing things up, but that's not necessarily a bad thing. Just because words like membranous are no longer in the verbal section doesn't mean kids aren't learning important vocabulary. And speaking of useful terms, shouldn't we have an English word for "the parents of your child's spouse"? Actually, there is one. And if your daughter gets divorced, should she call her former husband her . . . wasband? Plus, Sheboyganisms like fry out and hot tamales, please find attached and other e-mail language, the two meanings of inertia, Z-plurals, and mispronounced words.
5/11/14	54:00	#1398	This week on "A Way with Words": What's so special about the phrase "Sit on a pan, Otis! "? It's an example of a palindrome -- a word or phrase that's spelled the same backwards as it is forwards. This year's contest known as the Oscars of the palindrome world produced some clever, even poetic, surprises. Plus, some tips for raising a child to be bilingual. And what was the search engine Google called BEFORE it was called Google

5/18/14	54:00	#1354	Everyone knows you don't start a sentence with "But." But why? We sort out the confusion over this little word. Also, how voice recognition technology is changing the way we think and write, and what English sounds like to foreigners. (Hint: It's not pretty.) Plus, where cockamamie comes from, oddly translated movie titles, trucker slang, patron vs. customer, hashtags, pungling, paralipsis, and more.
5/25/14	54:00	#1355	This week on "A Way with Words": You've been reading a book and you're just not into it. How do you decide when to break up with a book -- guilt-free? Plus, breaking bad habits: Most of us have verbal crutches we'd like to eliminate. What's the best way to dress up our speaking skills? It's practice, practice, practice! And probably not in front of your spouse! And, find out if you're a cuddywifter or a pinstriped cookie-pusher.
6/1/14	54:00	#1356	This week on "A Way with Words": It's a look at how movie titles evolve. Remember those classic Hollywood films "Dogumentary" and "$3000"? Probably not. Those were their working titles, before they became "Best in Show" and "Pretty Woman." Also, if you spend time on Facebook, you've probably had that odd feeling of knowing a whole lot about a stranger, because they happen to be a friend or family member of someone you do know. What's the term for this odd, uniquely 21st-century connection?
6/8/14	53:00	#1399	This week on "A Way with Words": Giving your baby an unusual moniker may seem like a great idea at the time. But what if you have second thoughts? One mother of a newborn had such bad namer's remorse, she poured out her heart to strangers online. Speaking of mothers and daughters: Laura Ingalls Wilder didn't write the "Little House on the Prairie" series alone. She had help from her daughter Rose--who turned out to be quite a demanding editor. And where in the world would you find an upstairs basement? Plus: scat singing, jook joints, makes no nevermind, from hell to breakfast, dog pound vs. animal shelter, and what you're supposed to do in an upstairs basement.
6/15/14	53:00	#1400	This week on "A Way with Words": Your telephone is for talking, right? Or is it? We're guessing it's been a while since you sat next to a telephone waiting for it to ring. In fact, maybe you're one of those people who HATE to see that voicemail message light blinking. But for many of us, waiting for a text is different. Also, California may be the "Dude!" capital of the country, but the term "dude" actually comes from New York City. And where exactly would you eat tweezer food?
6/22/14	54:00	#1392	This week on "A Way with Words": You're at a social gathering and meet someone you'd like to know better. What do you ask to get a real conversation going? Some people lead with "What do you do?," while others avoid talking about work entirely. Still others ask, "Where'd you go to high school?" Also, the fancy way linguists describe the sound of a kiss. And what does it really mean when someone "breaks bad"? Plus, alight and come in, rustle my jimmies, breaking bad, grammatical calques, mashtag potatoes, comprise vs. compose, bangs vs. fringe, virgas and virgules, and bad Bible jokes.
6/29/14	54:00	1401	This week on "A Way with Words": Some of us can't go anywhere without a book or something to read. And one fast food joint hears you: Chipotle is now printing the work of famous writers on their paper cups. Speaking of fast food, saying that someone is "two plums short of a Happy Meal" is one way to joke that they're not quite up to snuff. Plus, every first grader plays that little flute known as a "recorder"—but haven't you always wondered why it's called that? Plus, a word quiz for the summertime, South Carolina lingo, flout vs. flaunt, silent B's, a rare word for worry in the wee hours, and a big congrats to the Class of 2K14!

4/20/14	53:58	ATK312	This time on America's Test Kitchen, we speak with Jeremiah Tower, a leader of the American culinary revolution who started as the chef of Chez Panisse in the 1970's and later went on to open Stars in San Francisco. We'll find out all about cake pans from gadget guru Lisa McManus, and we'll be tasting wines with expert Stephen Meuse. Then we'll head into the test kitchen to learn how to make the best Almond Cake. And of course, we'll be taking your calls to answer all of your cooking questions.
4/27/2014	53:57	ATK313	This time on America's Test Kitchen, we speak to Cara De Silva, the editor of In Memory's Kitchen: A Legacy from the Women of Terezin , a cookbook written by starving women in the Czechoslovakian ghetto/concentration camp of Theresienstadt. Find out how these brave women used their culinary heritage as an act of defiance by talking about food and trading recipes. "for these women when they were doing this it was a form of resisting psychologically, of reinforcing who they were and they were using recipes as defensive weapons..."
